PRINCIPAL WARNS AGAINST PERFORMANCES BY CHILDREN

(Taken from Hamilton News)

The practice of having children perform at home and school meetings was criticized by a Dundas school principal at the first meeting of the Hamilton Council of Home and School Associations, held in Ryerson Public School on Wednesday evening. Mr. W. K. Wylie, head of Dundas Public School, was speaking on What the Home and School Organization Means to Me, and thought that both children and teachers should be excluded from participating in the programs of regular meetings. Relatives would come to hear their children perform, but not to the regular meetings, and children suffered the next day. Teachers, too, were busy people and liked to attend meetings incognito.

MANY ATTEND

Nearly 140 parents, representing 40 Hamilton schools, were present to hear warm praise for the home and school organization and the part it could play in the life of the community. Outlining the work of the organization, the speaker said he thought some of the textbooks were a little too idealistic for practical purposes on the subject of "a not do without."

home and school organization's uses. If the parents were going to leave any sort of memorial in the school, he thought it should be a practical one, preferably an item which the school needed but could not afford, rather than a plaque on the wall.

The home and school organization could act in the community as an auxiliary group. By virtue of its membership it could reach the public in matters of public health, such as cancer research. It could provide a link with the home and the school in the education of children of pre-school age.

EDUCATIVE FORCE

The principal thought the organization could act as an educational force by providing informative speakers. He placed most importance, however, on the study groups, especially those which studied the pre school children.

Early attitudes of a child's life were its greatest moulding factors, he said. "The longer I teach, the more surprised I am that we make what progress we do."

A home and school organization was essential in any school, the speaker concluded. "The organization is not something you put up with. It is something you can

Pegs 29 Points During One Hand of Crib

BEISEKER — While a 29 hand is something to write home about pegging 29 points during the playing of one hand of cribbage is considered still rarer. That's what Moe Bettin of Creston, formerly of Beiseker did during a game with Jack Evans on Saturday.

As it happened each player held two threes and two deuces after discarding. Mr. Evans led off with a three which Mr. Bettin paired to peg two. Mr. Evans played his other three and Mr. Bettin played his to peg 12. The same procedure followed with the deuces, of course so Mr. Bettin pegged 14 more and one for a go to make a total of 29. It's the first time Mr. Bettin has heard of such a hand in 35 years of playing crib.

A Daniel Come to Judgement

Does the farmer own his land? If he has a clear title to his land he is the owner of it, but we are led to ask: What is land?

The provincial government, in order to protect the farmers and make sure that his land remains his land, passed a Sand and Gravel Act, which makes the farmer secure in the elements that go to make his land. There is a case at present before the courts, in which it is being argued that the sand and gravel on a farm are minerals and therefore under the mineral rights clause in any land act.

A farmer buys a tract of land in Alberta, pays good money for it, pays taxes on it, but now they want to deprive him piecemeal of his very soil. There is sand and gravel in all land. Every small garden is full of some sand or gravel and the owners of farms and gardens are liable to spend a busy time sorting out what is theirs and what may be claimed by anybody who wants minerals!

In this case there is need for a Daniel to come to judgment! It should be the judgment of the courts, if the sand and gravel are declared minerals under the law, that anybody gaining the right to take them out should be forced to take them away without a single bit of "land" being harmed or removed. The land at least belongs to the farmer, only the sand and gravel can be removed!

To paraphrase from the "Merchant of Venice", this should be the law as expounded by a Daniel come to judgment:

Therefore prepare thee to take out thy sand and gravel. Take thou no land; nor take thou less nor more but just that amount which is legally thine. If thou takest less or more than the gravel and sand that is thine, thy contract is void and thou art liable for damages. Take the sand and gravel, but don't touch the land!—under threat of prosecution.

Edinburgh Blue Popular Color

The Duke of Edinburgh has succeeded to the place of the Duke of Windsor held in the fashionable world. Today the masculine portion of the population look to Edinburgh and not Paris or New York for their fashions.

The doughty sailor duke has set the fashion in color for men's wear—Edinburgh blue. The handsome and charming husband of Princess Elizabeth has all the qualities required to make him a style-leader. He dresses well, colorfully and, when the occasion dictates, informally.

Recognized as a British stylemaker, the duke has inspired an Edinburgh blue trend in this fall and winter men's clothing.

The influence of historic events on color is an interesting study. At the time of Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, the whole of England dressed in royal purple. Purple dresses of varying degrees of shade, purple ties for the man, sweaters, gloves and even shoes. Canadians are not likely to go to extremes in this manner, it is predicted.

Worse Than DT's

It is with some diffidence that we offer to any seasoned soak the following cure for alcoholism now being tried out in Czechoslovakia.

It is—work, vitamins, orange juice and Marxist lectures. Seven weeks of 'em.

This recipe seems to work, according to Reuters. A refugee from the Czechs, interviewed in Vienna, turned down a drink, saying he couldn't touch it "after the lessons I got."

He told of receiving along with the "work and other stuff" lectures on the evils of drink and on political and economic subjects.

Now there's no magic in this recipe.

Vitamins and orange juice are old stuff, so are the lectures on teetotalism. Sometimes they work, sometimes they don't.

But the Czechs may have something in Marx that the West hasn't got. It sounds as if they've discovered a new shock treatment.

A solid seven-week series of spuels on the sorrows of socialism as suffered under the Soviets should scare anyone off the drink.

It would be worse than the DT's.

All About Beds

By JACK SCOTT

I am a guy who, when he reads through the back pages of any magazine, becomes dizzy with the wonderful advances in civilized living.

The front of the magazine may say we are going to annihilate ourselves with atom bombs in the next 10 years, but in the bright shining world of the advertisements to the rear there is page after page of proof that we will, at least, have reached a high degree of making life easier for ourselves in the few short years we have left.

If I had a trumpet I would give a crisp fanfare to the makers of pressure cookers, deodorants, aspirin, jockey shorts, electric lawnmowers, plastic dental plates, two-way stretch girdles and all the other advances in modern living which prove that life can be beautiful, if temporary.

And yet it seems to me that in all these blessings of inventiveness and "know how," as the Americans say, we have neglected one important aspect of modern civilization.

Nobody has yet invented a bed big enough for a grown man!

A scientific study of beds and their relationship to grown men, which I have been conducting for several years, indicates proof positive that men are getting larger all the time and beds are getting smaller. Were it possible to take a nocturnal peek into the bedrooms of any group of average red-blooded Canadian males I venture to say that nine out of ten would be found with their feet sticking out and looking mighty hideous, too.

Th every-day, double, or two-passenger bed is, itself, of a size in which only a drowsy midget could be thoroughly comfortable, but the beds on steamers and in hotels are the real curse of mankind.

In the last week I have spent five nights precariously clinging to make-up shelves. These so-called beds are not only short enough to suggest that they were designed for double amputees, but are so narrow that they make sleep impossible. A man must remain alertly awake and with a delicate sense of balance or risk a nasty fall.

Perched like a nervous canary on the upper ledge of a two-tier bunk the other night I let my mind go back to a bed I once slept in at a place called Tilburg in Holland. The Dutch may not have pressure cookers or plastic dental plates but, by the Lord Harry, they have beds that were made for comfort.

A fellow called Hec Stewart was billeted with me at that time in a middle-class Dutch home, and as we crawled into that immense bed on our first night he had hardly time to say "Good-night" before he sank slowly out of sight. I, myself, disappeared out of the world of the living into a beautiful, bottomless, feathered pit.

On that very evening a paratroop attack was anticipated in Tilburg. The signal was to be the firing of two anti-aircraft guns less than a hundred yards from where we slept. During the night there was a false alarm that the Germans were dropping troops. The guns blazed for four minutes. Later in the evening the Germans shelled the town with a gigantic railway gun north of the town.

We learned all about it the next day after a night of uninterrupted sleep.

I haven't carried out any extensive investigation on the cause for the decline of the bed, but I will wager a small sum (say 15 cents) that it all began with the idiot who invented twin beds, probably one of the early interior decorators.

The twin bed is based on the theory that since two people may be comfortable in a double bed they may be equally comfortable, separately, a half-a-bed each, a fine piece of mathematical logic which has given many a man a sleepless night.

About the same time as the twin beds were coming on the market somebody else invented a chesterfield which makes up into a couch. This particular invention is based on the theory that human beings can shorten themselves like a telescope, without permanent injury. Personally, I would as soon spend a night in an accordion case.

What I'm looking for now is a bed about nine feet square, a suitable roost for a man who hopes to spend the best years of his life horizontally.

PENSIONS DEAL

Dear Sir—Your editorial "Old Age Pensioners Anxious" is worthy of more than passing consideration, though it does not touch the main problem confronting many like ourselves in these days of soaring prices.

A few days ago we received a letter from the Hon. Paul Martin, minister of health and national welfare in regard to the forthcoming OAP legislation.

Having kept a record of newspaper pronouncements on this subject since the federal committee brought in their recommendations, we have waited for some pronouncement from our provincial government as it concerns the 65-69 age group.

In July last Hon. Paul Martin indicated that this group would need to wait for provincial announcements.

In August Premier Duplessis made it clear he would go along with this age group on the 50-50 basis. Ontario next announced endorsement, and their legislature met last week for that purpose. Premier Johnston of B.C. has made it plain that they will put through complimentary legislation for the 65-69 needy cases. Since then Premier Campbell of Manitoba has also agreed, and the house is to meet soon for this purpose.

I have the news clipping on hand, taken from Edmonton Journal.

Having occasion to write Mr. Martin about his letter to me, I told him of my surprise at his making no mention of this 65-69 age group when in Calgary and our city recently.

Moreover, not a word from Premier Manning, though Dr. Cross some time ago indicated he was in favor of the BEST that the country could do for their aged citizens.

Alberta is far ahead now financially of Manitoba. If Premier Campbell has enough faith and goodness of heart to consider their needy aged citizens between age 65 and 69, what in all conscience holds Alberta back from following suit with the provinces mentioned?

STRIKE PAY

Dear Sir—It will hardly seem reasonable to the millions of non-union Canadian wage and salary earners who have been contributing for the past 10 years a part of their weekly earnings to the Unemployment Insurance Fund that their money should be used to provide a form of strike pay to union sympathizers who refuse to work on the grounds that it is improper to cross a picket line.

Union leaders attending the recent Canadian Congress of Labor (CIO) convention in Vancouver urge Ottawa pay unemployment insurance benefits to anyone who refuses to cross a picket line and thus voluntarily accepts unemployment.

Seeking such special benefits for the members of the organized labor group is not the way to promote the even justice and harmony most Canadians desire. It might be noted that the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada (AFL) refused to endorse a similar resolution on the grounds that unemployment benefits paid to workers refusing to cross a picket line would drain the Unemployment Insurance Fund. Most Canadians will feel that organized labor is able to apply pressure to obtain enough special concessions without seeking strike pay from the public purse.

Four Years In Jail For Planting Bomb

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (BUP)—

Alex Adorjan, a miner from East Coulee, Alberta, was sentenced yesterday to four years in Prince Albert penitentiary.

He pleaded guilty in Drumheller to placing dynamite in the East Coulee home of Mrs. Mary Juhasz, with intent to do bodily harm.

The court was told that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police found two home-made bombs, one in the woman's bed and the other in a woodpile.

Health Minister Dr. W. W. Cross said extra per diem allowances would be made for maternity cases, hospitalized old age pensioners and hospitalized recipients of mother's allowance and dependents of this group.

The minister said the next session of the legislature early in 1952 would be asked to approve additional appropriations to provide similar extra allowances for hospitalized indigents in the province.

Extra allowances announced today consisted of $1.25 for class A. hospitals, increasing the provincial grant to $7.45 daily; 75 cents for class C. hospitals, raising the total to $6.45; and 50 cents for class D. and E. hospitals, raising their grants to $5.95.

Cross said the extra maternity award covered care of the mothers but not their newborn. Edmonton and Calgary hospitals were expected to benefit most from the new rates.

Officials recalled public ward rates in class A. Alberta hospitals were recently raised to $7.50 per day. The new scale of grants will take care of all this amount except five cents.

Manning Vetoes Suggestion For Liquor Law Probe

Premier E. C. Manning threw cold water on a suggestion that a Royal Commission be formed to investigate standardization of Canadian liquor laws.

Manning said at his weekly press conference that different provincial governments and the federal government presently administer the nation's liquor laws.

"If we are going to be realistic," he added, "we have to realize that a Royal Commission trying to deal with such a varied jurisdiction has faint hope of devising any recommendations that could be implemented throughout Canada."

Manning commented on a report that Manitoba is favoring a Royal Commission on liquor regulations. He said Alberta was not opposed to such a commission, because the situation regarding liquor laws was "serious enough." But he added that Alberta did not believe a commission would be able to satisfy all provinces presently administering their own liquor laws.

Smokers Turning To Forty Cent Brands

Edmonton smokers were reported turning to 40-cent brands of cigarettes this week following the price boost to 42 cents by one tobacco manufacturer.

One tobacco wholesaler also said that retailers charging 42 cents for cigarettes were "profiteering" as the new higher priced stocks had not yet arrived in the city.

Imperial Tobacco company has thus far been the only firm to raise its cigarette prices.

It was reported there would be no price boost for cigars and other tobacco products.

Outlook For Crops Improved By 3 Days Of Hot Weather

The prairie farmer, beset by snow as late as June and as early as September, can expect a bumper crop of relatively high grade grade despite the vagueness of the weatherman.

This was the consensus among grain men here who regarded the past three days of hot dry weather as a poker player who draws to an inside straight.

They said another day of warm weather would have a profound effect on harvesting operations that already were being resumed in some areas for the first time in many days.

It was unlikely the weatherman would cooperate to everybody's satisfaction. The forecast was for rain in Saskatchewan "as far east as Regina" and into Manitoba with cloudy but warm weather in Alberta.

"Another day or so of this weather and harvesting will be general across the prairies, especially on the uncut crop."

By R. J. SCOTT

Women Need No Longer Have Fear of Childbirth

The position of women in any civilization is an index to the nation's advancement. Among primitive people childbirth is treated with comparative indifference and brutality.

Among the early civilizations which reached a high state, such as the Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans, the childbearing woman was given special attention. However, with the decline of those great civilizations to a large extent this knowledge was lost or disregarded.

In medieval times the mortality for mother and child rose to a pinnacle never known before. This was due to many causes such as the backwardness of the people, the indifference to human life, as well as the filth of the population. Countless mothers and children were victims during this dark period. With the Renaissance a change began to come very gradually.

A prominent physician makes the observation that the civilization of a community can be measured by the care that is given the child-bearing woman.

The modern conquest of death at birth began in the 16th century. It has continued until now when childbirth is surrounded by every comfort and safeguard that modern science knows how to throw around it.

But the masses of people always lag behind. Great numbers of them are still filled with superstition. Some of them prefer old wives' tales to the clear light of truth that shines from the glorious pages of science.

We, as a people, have not conquered the ignorance and darkness of medieval times.

The medical profession and intelligent laity have run far ahead of the masses even of our day which move slowly. The feet of the majority of them are still sunken in the mud of medievalism. The neglect of the patient woman and her child, seen in the deaths at birth and in the hazards of bearing children, is not the fault of the medical profession. That profession has led in the conquest, but it can give no more than the community will accept. It cannot of itself overcome the inertia of civilization nor determine the value that the inhabitants place upon their women and children.

In Canada the physicians all over the nation are trying hard to educate the people along the lines of obstetrics and to make the lot of the child-bearing women safer and more comfortable. They are advancing slowly and many more lives of women and children are saved every year.

Congress To Vote On Seaway Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(BUP)—Opponents lined up today to try to block a new attempt to push the controversial St. Lawrence seaway and power project through the House of Representatives public works committee.

Opponents were slated to testify today with proponents presenting their arguments Wednesday.

The committee earlier this year killed by close votes all pending bills to authorize the United States-Canadian project which carries a joint price tag of $818,000,000.

Urge New B.C. Party

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 9.—(BUP)—A major political battle raged at the evening session of the first annual convention of the B.C. Catholic Educational Association here when a delegate suggested the association should form a new political party. Fred Peters of Vancouver, proposed a Christian Democratic party to be drawn up to support all minorities involved in the school issue that was sparked last April by the closing of two Roman Catholic schools at Maillardville, B.C.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—(BUP)—An Ontario general election for Nov. 22 was announced Thursday. The vote will be held almost two years before the term of Premier Leslie Frost's Progressive Conservative government is due to expire.

The election announcement came as no surprise. Speculation had been rife that "this was the year."

30 Candidates For Winnipeg Election

WINNIPEG—(BUP)—Thirty candidates will contest the aldermanic and school board seats in Winnipeg's civic election Oct. 24.

At the close of nominations yesterday sixteen aldermanic hopefuls were nominated to contest the nine council seats while 14 candidates will contest the nine school board openings.

There is no mayoralty contest this year but the city's 163,335 eligible voters will be asked in a referendum to decide on the sale of colored margarine.

Pair Fined $600 For Having U.S. Fags

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—(BUP)—Two men have been fined a total of $600 and costs in Winnipeg for being in illegal possession of American cigarettes.

Jack Pitch and Douglas Warner Storms of Emerson, Manitoba, pleaded guilty to having 220 cartons of imported cigarettes valued at $440.

Police arrested the pair as they loaded the cigarettes into a garage behind Pitch's home.

Children Of Light Tell Winnipeg Of World Destruction

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—(BUP)—

The Children of Light made their appearance in Winnipeg last night with a warning that "the world stands on the eve of the most terrific onslaught of destruction the world has ever known."

Mrs. Grace Agnes Carlson and her 12 disciples, wearing sackcloth and thin and dark colored burlap tunics, told a scant audience that her mission was to prepare man for the tribulations to come.

The tribulations, she added, would last seven years.

Last December Mrs. Carlson and 30 of her followers locked themselves in a Keremeos, B.C., farm house to await her reported prophecy that the end of the world would come Jan. 9.

In denying that she had set a date for "doomsday" Mrs. Carlson said the press and radio were 95 per cent wrong in their reports.

"We're neither fools nor fanatics," she said, "we're just like you are. Our beliefs are sane and down to earth."

"God brought me back from the gates of death 16 years ago... God sent his sign and called us for you... because of the destruction that's coming."

WESTERN WHEAT PRODUCERS NEED

MORE MONEY, URGES J. E. BROWNLEE

Prompt release of the Canadian Wheat Board of proceeds of sale of last year's grain or alternatively increased initial prices on this year's grain, are urged in a statement made recently by J. E. Brownlee, K.C., president of the United Grain Growers Limited, after a meeting of the Board of Directors of that company. Mr. Brownlee's statement follows:"Many western farmers urgently need more cash than they can obtain immediately from marketing of this year's crop.
Both initial payments and delivery quotas are low.That need can be quickly met through further distribution by the Canadian Wheat Board on last year's grain deliveries. Tens of millions of dollars remain to be paid to farmers in that respect as soon as accounts for last year's crops can be closed. If further delay in that connection is inevitable, a substantial interim payment should be made at once.
At least twenty cents per bushel on last year's wheat deliveries could be safely paid.Alternatively, needed cash can be supplied by a substantial increase in initial payments on this year's deliveries on wheat, oats and barley. These are very lowin relation to prices at which such grains are now selling. On wheat, for example, there is a difference between initial prices and class two export prices of nearly a dollar a bushel and of nearlyfifty cents a bushel on wheat sold under the International Wheat Agreement. That is a margin of safety for the government much wider than is needed under present conditions.United Grain Growers' Limited asks the government and the Canadian Wheat Board to act immediately to put more money into the hands of western wheat producers.Now a National Historic Park,

Churchill, Man., is the most northerly fortress on the North American continent.

Letter to Louisa

Dear Louisa:

I have a mother, who is very vivacious and popular but she is very noisy. She embarrasses me in public places by her loud remarks, making all of us conspicuous.

I have reached the point where I hate to go places with her but I cannot tell her the real reason because I hate to hurt her feelings. She thinks I am very shy and is always trying to push me into doing things I don't want to do.

I would be perfectly happy if she would only let me alone, so that I could have friends I like and go to the places I want to go without worrying about being a society butterfly.

How can I tell her all this without hurting her feelings?

DEVOTED DAUGHTER.

Answer:

Your mother is evidently an extrovert and you are an introvert and the two of you naturally do not see eye to eye about things and people.

The more she pushes you into doing the things you dislike the more anti-social you become. If she would let you alone to do the things you like, everyone would be happier but she simply cannot understand how anyone likes to be alone or quiet.

Why don't you explain to her how you feel about your social life? Tell her that you enjoy being quiet and you do not feel left out of things when you are not the life of the party.

She, naturally, is trying to make you happy and if she can be made to understand what your idea of happiness is, perhaps she will stop trying to make you the popularity kid.

LOUISA.

IT WAS a lucky day for Beverly Burrows, right, of London, Ont., when she sold a 25 cent ticket on a lottery to her father to repay a debt. When the lottery was drawn, her father won a car and she a car for selling the winning ticket. So Beverly, seen with her mother, has a choice of cars when she goes shopping.

PROTECT YOUR CROP INVESTMENT BY WINDROWING THE McCORMICK-DEERING WAY

To prevent any damage to your grain crop from weather, insects, weeds or moisture, windrowing before threshing is certainly a step forward in farming practices—especially when done the McCormick-Deering way!

The No. 120 Windrower (12 or 15-foot size) handles the grain quickly and easily in its smooth operation. Adjusts to crops of all heights. Completely power-driven, it has the light draft that comes from use of numerous ball and roller bearings, and gears running in oil. The No. 6, in 6 and 8-foot sizes, is built for use on smaller acreages.

You'll probably agree with us that windrowing can mean a better grade of grain under many conditions... and now we'd like to point out how well a McCormick-Deering Windrower can do this job for you. Stop by next time you're in town.

No Evidence Of Red Subs Off Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (BUP)—An Alaska command spokesman said today intelligence officers have "no evidence" to show that foreign submarines had been prowling Alaska waters.

Maj. James Bryan, public information officer for the Alaska command, said he is skeptical of the reports of two U.S. Fish and Wildlife officials who said they saw foreign subs off the Alaska coast.

"So far we have no evidence to show that submarines had been in the areas where Donald Cross and Tom Costello said they saw the undersea craft recently," Bryan

If you are one of the farmers that have not started your harvesting yet, and you want to get it done fast, less loss of grain, at a small operating cost, then there is only one answer.
